

Sustainability Planning SHIP Transformation

- Sustainability planning needed as the SHIP grant is due to wind down to continue the momentum for transformation
- Required Sustainability Plan due to CMMI- Key elements discussed at December IHC with Mercer
- Work is underway
  - Looking across the SHIP current activities and the State's ongoing goals for transformation
  - Gaining input from key staff and stakeholders engaged in transformation
  - Strategic planning with alignment with other Idaho efforts

Sustainability Planning

Process Steps So Far

- In progress: Mercer review of past SHIP accomplishments to date; preliminary framework to fulfill federal requirements
- January 2018 - PCMH Sustainability Workshop
  - Highlights reviewed at February IHC

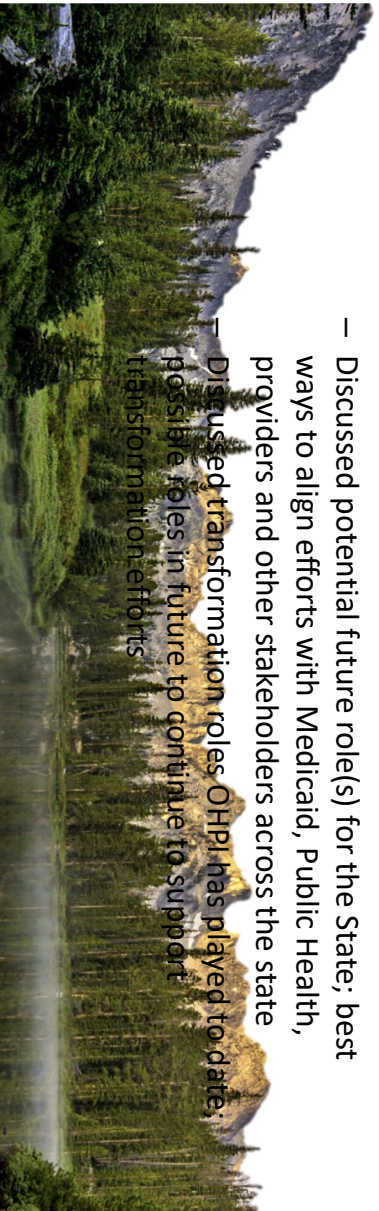

- February 2018 – Office of Healthcare Policy Initiatives (OHPI) Visioning Workshop
  - Reviewing highlights today

Sustainability Planning

OHPI Visioning Workshop

- Key lead within the state agency that has overseen SHIP activities
- Highlights of the Workshop Discussions:
  - Reviewed successes to date
  - Considered what is needed for sustaining transformation efforts in Idaho
  - Discussed potential future role(s) for the State; best ways to align efforts with Medicaid, Public Health, providers and other stakeholders across the state
- Discussed transformation roles OHPI has played to date; possible roles in future to continue to support transformation efforts

Sustainability Planning Upcoming Process Steps

- April 2018
  - Regional Collaboratives Workshop
  - IHC discussions re sustaining transformation
- May and June 2018
  - Further discussions particularly with state leadership, providers and other stakeholders
  - Considerations of any needed supports and/or funding to sustain transformation including:
    - Sustaining and/or developing any needed public and private partnerships to support the delivery system transformations
    - Assessing optimal state staff roles and structures to align efforts across the agency for fulfilling the state's role
